When the corn-stalks are very large, it is probably a small gain in the weight of the grain, if after the kernels glaze well the corn be cut up at the ground, rather than topped above the cars. Yet where the great dent corn is planted, we incline decidedly to the opinion that there is a decided advantage gained when it is topped, and the tops and suckers (earless sidestalks) are well cured. The practice at the South of breaking out the suckers together with the lower leaves of the corn, while yet it is green and the ears not glazed, certainly affords a very excellent fodder, and, if enough of the strong growing suckers, which would make good male flowers, be allowed to stand to fertilize the tips GREAT ATTRA TION of the ears, it is probably economical. Where the small kinds of corn are grown as throughout Canada, New England, and New York, we regard it as a poor policy and a loss of fodder to top corn for the sake of getting a kind of fodder which the cattle will eat up clean if not chaffed. With a little pains and labor, but a very small portion of the stalks are refused by the stock.

Dr. R., of Hartford Co., Conn., had a cornstalk stack accidently put up too green. (or perhaps, it got thoroughly rain soaked,) so that it heated, and the interior came into a condition of very active fermentation. The result was, that he thought it mostly ruined. and as soon as he could, threw off the unhurt portions to save them, and thus opened what appeared to be a mass of corruption beneath. The butts were the only parts which retained their form, all the rest was a brownish or black mass, smelling, however string attention to business, he hopnot unpleasantly. The fermentation had proceeded just so far as to form the famous "brown ha," the stalks being soft, sweet and flaversome. The Doctor has, we believe, repeated the operation with suc-

GOOD CIDER.

We saw last season the following going the rounds of the papers, but we know not where it originated. It is said to preserve cider in a sweet state any length of time. We give it for what it is worth, and as it looks right, we trust it will be generally tried this season-which may be truly denominated a cider year -and the result communicated to the public through the Germantown Telegraph :

Put the new cider into clean casks or barrels, and allow it to ferment from one to three weeks, according as the weather is cool or warm. When it has attained to lively fermentation add to each gallon three-fourths of a pound of white sugar, and let the whole ferment again until it posesses nearly the brisk pleasant taste which it is desired should be permahent. Pour out one quart of the cider, and mix it with one quarter of an ounce of sulphite of lime for every gallon the cask contains. Stir until it is intimately mixed, and pour the emulsion into the liquid. Agitate the contents of the cask thoroughly for a few moments, then let it rest, that the cide may settle. Fermentation will be arrested at once, and will not be resumed. It may be bottled in the course of a few weeks, or it may be allowed to remain in the cask and used on draft. If bottled, will become a sparkling cider-better than most of that which is called campagne wine

THE GOOD HOUSEWIFE.

The instant you enter a house, whether rich or poor, you know whether it belongs to a clever housekeeper or not. It is not in the kind or amount of property and furniture, but it is in its disposition, in the art with which everything is made to look its MUSLIN, EDGINGS, DRESS best. She is never taken at a disadvantage. She it is who keeps the house on those fabulous sums which drive the more lavish housewifes to despair, and cause a frenzy of admiration in their less fortunate possessors, yet who always has a well filled larder, and can produce a better supply at a moments notice than many others with double her weekly allowance. With her full to overflowing, she never lets fall the smallest remnant of duty, of some pleasure as well; she finds timeforeverything she has to do, and a proper oil Cloth, and Paper Window Shades, Cords, Tassels and Fixtures for Pictures. &c.. or toe very latest styles, and is prepared to or all 1 laus or naper hanging to order. act. tried it sends us this method of extirpating the repulsive bedbug:

If any of your readers need a sure remedy for bedbugs, they can have mine, and cleanse the house of this troublesome vermin without expense. They have only to wash with salt and water, filling the cracks where they frequent with salt, and you may look in vain for them. Salt seems inimical to bedbugs, and they will not trail through it. TONIC AND RESTORATIVE, By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the coun The new preparation, "Sarsaparilla in combina-tion with lodide of Lime," presents one of the most prompt alterative agents, in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this 's minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the altera tive, resolvent, or tonic effects of lodine, are exert ed most decidedly when associated with other alter atives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla scem to fulfill perfectly all the favorable requisitions. The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" taken, is an increase of appetite showing that it and tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combina tion with the blood and tissues Pale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition. It is admirably adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them both by the mildness and efficiency of medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclinat on to take the syrup, encou tered. In White Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persist ently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained

In the Spring of the Year, and during the Warm Weather, the accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome Lassitude, Peadache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indizestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is setter adapted t exterminate or a ive of these of coons than this new combination of SARSALARILLA WITH 1001DE No preparation like it, or which approximates to it as an
